EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::JULY 26, 1869.

Down the Road.

On Friday night we took a trip down the country as far as Sandersville on the Central Railroad.

We got off at number 13—Tennille—the point that is getting some notice now as the reputed terminus of the new railroad agitated at present from that point to Atlanta. It is a small station with a good depot building, a dwelling or two and several stores. It has always been an important agency of the Central road, as it is the shipping point for a wealthy and fertile cotton section.

The most Northern point of the road is between Tennille and Davisboro'—No. 12, where the road makes a bend Southward in the direction of Macon.

The connection from No. 13, to Atlanta, makes a pretty fair air-line between Atlanta and Savannah, shortening the route through Macon over forty miles. The sudden interest taken in this matter has grown out of a well grounded fear of loss of freight and travel for the Central road and Savannah, from the Macon and Brunswick road, which, it is said, will be completed in November.

The Central road, it is said, has been endeavoring to lease the Macon and Western Railroad, so as to control the matter. If it is unable to do this, the probabilities are strong that the new link from Tennille to Atlanta will be attempted.

The people along the Central road are keen for the new road. Even the ladies are found discussing the matter, and poring over maps, with thread laying off air-lines, and measuring distances with an avid interest.

We were surprised to find how unpopular in the country is the Central Railroad. There is an intense hostility to it. The people seem to think it a despotic, unmerciful monopoly, making concessions to no interests, granting no favors, exacting the highest freight and fares, using a policy hide-bound, selfish, illiberal and regardless of the welfare of the country. No matter what may be the inducement to foster some enterprise of great value, they claim, it never fails to extort the highest price for transportation. For instance, vegetables would be raised for all the markets of Georgia, but the production is crushed hopelessly out by the enormous freight. We know nothing of this thing, but give what the people say. One man vowed that he meant to wagon his cotton sixteen miles to the Macon and Augusta Road rather than ship it on the Central, right at hand.

The Central is a very smooth road, and its appointments are fine. It is a wealthy corporation. Its President, Col. Wm. M. Wadley, is an able railroader of enlarged conceptions, and broad far-seeing grasp, but said to be dogmatic and overbearing, and deficient in the amenities of life, and the road reflects his character.

As far as we can see, the error of the Central Road management, is its ungenerous discourteous, grasping policy. One thing is very certain, its enemies are numerous and earnest. It has awakened antagonism everywhere. For a year or two it has been stretching its strong and opulent grasp out in every direction to form combinations to retain its once resistless monopoly of power.

We tell our Savannah friends, that unless the Central can get control of the Macon and Western railroad, an exceedingly improbable thing now, the completion of the Brunswick road is going to damage them greatly, and the Tennille and Atlanta link will be a necessity.

The Central road has no sleeping cars.

The rains have improved the crops. An estimate was made that the drought has hurt the crops one-sixth. Fertilizers have been generally used. An experienced gentleman told us that the use of artifical manures wastes land, unless every third year green manures are alternated with them, such as clover, peas, etc.

Sandersville, is quite flourishing. Its excellent weekly paper, the Central Georgian, its worthy and active editor, Mr. Medlock told us, was in a thriving condition.

The negro charged with killing Col. Flournoy, has confessed that he tried to wrest the pistol from Col. Flournoy's hand, and the pistol went off in the struggle, killing F.

We did not stop in Macon save an hour or two. Our old caterers of the Brown House, keep up their reputation. We know of no better Hotel in the State.

Georgia News.

We suggest that a convention of the Press of Georgia be held at Macon, first Wednesday in September, for the purpose of forming a State Press Association.—La Grange Reporter.

We second the suggestion.

Fine rain. Worth $1,000 to Troup county.—Ibid.

Thomas Leslie of Troup Factory, contributes the following remedy for cabbage bugs and worms: Take four ounces of cresylic soap, (better name is "dog dip") and dissolve it in two or three gallons of water, wash or sprinkle the cabbage, or any plant with the liquid, and death is inevitable. Very great complaint this spring of bugs; many are not aware of the damage being done. This same drug is good to put on sorry dogs infested with fleas and ticks.

A negro man named Milton Cooper, employed by the Eagle and Phœnix Factory, in excavating the walls of the old Howard factory, was instantly killed by the falling in of a portion of the brick and rubbish upon him.—Col. Sun.

The crops in the Valley and the Pleasant Hill district are undeniably splendid. The rains have been in season, and the corn product promises to be the largest for many years. Cotton is in fine condition. Fertilizers have been used to a great extent by the farmers of that section, and their present surroundings would indicate that they are to be repaid four-fold for their trouble.—Talbotton Gazette.

Judge James D. Woodall, of Pleasant Hill, this year, made 614 bushels of wheat, and threshed it out himself. The Judge calls himself a small farmer—running only four ploughs, we believe.—Ibid.

COTTON.—There is a volunteer stalk of cotton growing in our yard on which we counted, a week ago, one hundred and eighty bolls, blooms and squares. It has never been worked or attended to in any way, and is neither Dixon, Boyd's Prolific, Pettigulf, or the famous Mound. What is it? It has now about thirty grown bolls. [Thomasville Enterprise.

Dr. J. S. Baker is lecturing, at Thomasville, on "Fruit Culture" and "Grape Culture."

Rumored that Turner will sue Swayze for libel.

The Bainbridge Argus on the credit system has lost more than one-half of its earnings. Fodder pulling going on. Corn crop generally good. No caterpillar. Cotton hurt by drought. Corn crop sorry.—Bainbridge Argus.

Rain, but not enough. Crops injured some. Forward cotton blooming at the top, indicating the stoppage of growth. [Hancock Journal.

The Columbus Enquirer has general good reports from farming friends.

The Gadsden Times says the contract has been signed for building the Coosa and Tennessee River Railroad from Jacksonville to Guntersville. This will complete one more link in the chain of railroads that will form the Southern Pacific, with the Eastern terminus at Brunswick or Savannah. The Rome Commercial urges the completion of the Memphis Branch to Decatur in connection with the above.

Sumter, Schley and adjoining counties have had no rains, but small partial ones in a month. Corn cut off one-third. Cotton at a stand still—farmers gloomy. [Americus Courier.

Richard H. Bradley, in Savannah, was robbed at night by rascals who entered the house and drugged him with chloroform while sleeping.—Savannah Advertiser.

The Elberton Masons will build a Hall. The dwelling of Abner Anderson, and the Gin houses of Dozier Thornton and W. J. White, were burned by an incendiary. He is believed to be a Radical, who has been lurking in the neighborhood, and has sworn vengeance against these parties.—Elberton Galette.

The bridge over the Chattahoochee, at Fort Gaines, is progressing. Light showers, but crops suffering for rain. Cotton shedding.—Chattahoochee Mirror.

GEN. CLANTON.—We had the pleasure of a moment with Gen. Clanton, who passed through our city, on yesterday, to fill a political appointment in Eufaula. He has been doing yeoman's service in Alabama, and feels sanguine of the result. We feel a just pride in the General, for he is a Georgian, and we wish all Georgians possessed his courage and devotion to truth, section and principle.—Columbus Sun.

CROPS.—The crops in Troup and Coweta counties are said to be very promising.—Ibid.

The Sea Island cotton crop gives promise now of being an excellent one. The caterpillar has done some damage. Savannah, according to its recent census, has 1,239 dogs, of which 167 only are paid taxes on. There is dissatisfaction in Savannah, growing out of the fact, that the City Court decided that parties on trial cannot be committed to prison for failure to pay costs before trial. The magistrates wont issue warrants without the prosecutors advance costs. In some cases they have been unable to do it, and warrants have been refused and offenders gone free.—Savannah Republican.

The Macon Telegraph publishes interesting letters from Col. D. W. Lewis and Col. E. Hulbert, about the great fair in Macon in November. Col. Lewis is endeavoring to obtain return tickets free for visitors to the fair, over all the roads and Col. Hulbert is helping him. This privilege has been obtained to Memphis and Charleston. Col. Lewis states that the exhibition of improved stock, agricultural implements, and labor-saving machinery, will exceed anything ever seen South.

Col. Hulbert offers to carry, over the State road, all articles and stock for the fair free, and visitors for half fare; and he has sent the following circular letter to all the railroad superintendants South:

WESTERN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD,
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
ATLANTA, GA., July 24, 1869.

Dear Sir: The State Agricultural Society of Georgia, having been permanently reorganized under the auspices and management of the leading agriculturists and manufacturers of the State, the first Annual Fair will be held in Macon, Ga., in November, 1869, commencing on Tuesday, the 16th day of the month.

Among the very many advantages resulting from such exhibitions are:

The improved quality and increased quantity of all kinds of plantation products and manufactured articles; the spirit of generous emulation and progress they excite and encourage; the general instruction they impart, and the information thereby disseminated on all subjects of vital importance to material development, by affording opportunities for a personal interchange of views in regard thereto by well informed citizens; in stimulating to a wonderful degree the inventor's intellect; and, by bringing together the citizens of various parts of the State and of the Union, producing a kindlier feeling for and a higher appreciation of each other—a greater harmony and consequently a vastly greater efficiency of thought and action.

It is the ambition of the officers of the Society to make this Fair one of unusal interest, both as regards the number of persons present from all sections, and the extent and variety of stock, products and manufactured articles on exhibition, especially as it is confidently believed that many persons from the Northern States will, at the time, be traveling through the South to inform themselves on all these matters.

The enterprise, energy and progressive public spirit of Georgia has gained for her the foremost place among the States of this section, and the proud distinction of "The Empire State of the South." The preeminence thus voluntarily accorded her, must be made secure on all suitable occasions—for skilled and ambitious contestants have entered the field to try and wrest it from her.

To secure the laudable objects proposed by the officers of the Georgia State Agricultural Society, and give to the Fair all possible interest, I respectfully ask that you will pass visitors to it, over your road at one fare for the round trip—the ticket to be good for thirty days—full rate going, and returning free, on the certificate of the Secretary of the Society; that all articles for exhibition be transported free, and all stock transported both ways for one-half the usual rate.

Your concurrence in the above proposed arrangement, will be very highly appreciated, not only by all the officers and members of the Society, but by the people of Georgia, will be instrumental in doing much good, and accepted as a great personal favor.

Yours, very respectfully,
J. Edgar Thomson, Supt. W. & A. R. R.

Polignac—A Confederate Officer.

General Polignac, who served with so much distinction on the Southern side in the American war, is living quietly in Paris pursuing the scientific studies for which he is eminent. Last summer he read before the Scientific Society of London, a paper that was much applauded upon the best system of institution in the higher branches of mathematics.

He is at this time much interested in investigating the "origin and peculiarities of the cotton worm" with a view to preventing its ravages, and as he is in consultation with the most learned naturalists of the French Academy and the Garden of Plants, he is anxious for minute and accurate information. Letters, post paid in full, will find him, or any other Confederate in Europe, if directed to the care of "A. J. Weston, Esq., 72 Rue — Ste. vince, Paris."

General Polignac seems to relish most kindly recollections of his Confederate experiences, and a strong personal regard for many of the officers and men with whom he served.

On reaching Europe, after the fall of the Confederacy, he made a publication in one of the Paris papers, refuting slanders against the South—and he still, as occasion offers, defends our cause and people.

OUR JOB WORK.—THE CONSTITUTION Job Office, with its new and varied material, its new presses, new type and many kinds of paper and colored inks, is prepared to do work as cheap, as good, as stylish, and as quick as any other office in the South.

We are willing to compare specimens with anybody.

☞ Reading matter on every page.

☞ Gen. Rousseau's daughter, Mrs. Watkins, is dead.

☞ Henry J. Raymond died worth $450,000.

☞ Russell Jones, the United States Belgian Minister, has arrived in Brussels.

☞ Millard Fillmore and Thurlow Weed have made up after being at loggerheads for twenty years. Miss Weed did it.

THE AIR STEAMBOAT.—Another trial has been made in California, of the new steam vessel—the Avitor—with brilliant success.

☞ Daniel Webster's class numbered thirty, only two of whom—Aaron Loveland, of Norwich, Vt., and Asahel Stone—are now alive.

CO-OPERATIVE HOUSEKEEPING.—The Bostonians have inaugurated the system of co-operative housekeeping. Twenty-five families club together, buy their fodder by the wholesale, cook in a lump, and divide expenses, thus saving largely in provision, fuel, servants' hire, etc.

ANDY.—Senter's organ, in Tennessee—The Press and Times—repudiates an alliance with Andy Johnson, and says his public career is dead, and there is no chance for him to go to the Senate.

If this puny sheet can squelch Andy, it will do more than the combined Radical party has been able to do heretofore.

IRON CARS.—The late terrible railroad disasters, have suggested to some inventive genius the idea of iron cars, as something that can't be smashed. The experiment was made once, but failed. It is now to be tried again. The iron car it is claimed, will not take fire or break in pieces, will weigh a third less, and carry a third more freight than wooden cars.

☞ The California State Convention endorses Grant, declares for amnesty and suffrage, after the 15th Amendment; says the negro question is settled, favors immigration, opposes Chinese suffrage, thinks the government could close the door, but should not to the pig-tails; approves the eight-hour law, sanctions Sumner on the Alabama claims, favors equal taxes, and opposes State aid to railroads.

Boutwell.

Secretary Boutwell has been variously commented on, for his policy of buying up the government bonds at greenback prices, with his surplus gold, thus slowly reducing the debt. Nothing is more capricious than finance. It seems to be more of an experimental science than almost any other. The wisest financiers fail in their calculation of results. Sundry and conflicting predictions have been made about the effect of this scheme of Boutwell's, these vaticinations gaining form and color, solely from the political views of the prophets. Politics aside, one thing seems pretty certain, that Boutwell's plan has had the good effect to advance U. S. bonds in Europe, and strengthen the credit of the government abroad. It remains to be seen if this is evanescent, or will be lasting.

THE CIVIL AND THE MILITARY.—We give below a paragraph from Gen. Sherman's speech at Dartmouth College Commencement. The chronicles of Southern Reconstruction, including Meade's "Sweat-box" and Hoar's decision that military tribunals are legal in time of peace, and where the civil Courts are in authority, hardly sustain Mr. Sherman in his grandiose rhetoric. But we put the sophomic utterance on the docket for a sign-post for future guidance, giving the warlike orator full credit for sincerity, and accepting his dictum very willingly for his future guidance:

"It is a common feeling among civilians that soldiers are men of violence. There is nothing further from the truth. I appeal to the history of America, to the history of our own country, from Washington until the present moment, to show that the military men of this country have always been subordinate men—subordinate to the law, subordinate to the authorities, never setting up their own judgment in antagonism to that of the nation, but executing its will when that will had found expression in law, with a fidelity beautiful to behold; and so long as I continue to hold power and influence, I shall ever direct that power and influence to the end that the military of this country, whether a small force scattered all over the nation, or a vast army of volunteers gathered together for some special purpose, shall sustain the laws of the land and support the authority you may place over me, therefore, I feel the same interest in education that you do.

FRUIT.—Our Northern neighbors beat us all to pieces in the general interest taken in fruit raising. When we consider the value of fruit, its healthfulness, its superiority over meats in summer, as a diet, and the peculiar fitness of the Southern soil and climate for its finest culture, it is certainly a matter that our people should take the deepest interest in. We quote the following paragraph from a Northern journal as applicable here:

"No young man's or young woman's education should be considered complete who, especially living in the country, or having a village lot, has not been carefully taught how to transplant and train a tree or vine. Choice fruits will not grow haphazard, and can only be had anywhere by intelligent painstaking."

☞ Sumner denies that he is to become a Mormon. He has had one wife too much already.

Duxbury.

Duxbury, in Massachusetts, which the French cable is to send, is a little, old, dried-up, Rip-Van-Winkle town, about 30 miles from Boston, four miles from a railroad. Access to it is by a rarely, breaking, old stage, whose birth the memory of man knoweth not to the contrary. The ancient scarecrow, old dry-bones of a village, is fluttered out of all its little skimpy grain of sense by the terrible honor of the cable, and it has called a sort of a mumbling hen-convention, where it has been feebly discussing, for several days, a palsied sort of purpose to get up an antiquated tea party, or something on the order of a venerable and cranky demonstration in honor of the big and startling event in its placid history. This intoxicating ripple on the stale surface of its stagnant monotony, has created just such a high old hubbub as an impertinent gust of wind might be supposed to cause amid the crackling old rubbish in a shaky, tumble-down garrett that hasn't seen light for a century.

We wait with immense curiosity the result of this senile pow-wow, and look to see the lively old municipality of the immemorial Duxbury get on the unusual spree of half a dozen glasses of stale beer, as an intoxicating tribute to the mighty French cable.

Three cheers for dusty, cranky, inebriated, frisky old Duxbury, that "goes the big cable, and is going to jubilee over it!

STATE CORRESPONDENCE.

Education No. 2.—Free Schools, vs. the Paid System.

"The property of the people is chargeable with the education of the youth of the land," was announced in No. 1, of this series, as a maxim favoring the practical recognition of which, the selfishness of the property holder may be appealed to with success.

None, in this enlightened day, deny the benevolence, which proposes and inaugurates a system of education free to all the children of the land. The practicability of a system of free schools, in sparcely populated communities, that shall come up to the standard, and afford the facilities demanded by enlightened educators may well be doubted.

The experience of the sparsely settled South, exemplifies the truth that a certain density of population is necessary to the inauguration and successful management of schools free to all, both poor and rich. Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, Natchez, and New Orleans, where, for over twenty years, the free school system has been in successful operation, has demonstrated the advantages of this system, not only by the beneficient results wrought in the training of the youth of both sexes, free of charge—but in the immense enhancement of material values consequent upon the increase of population, and the improved intelligence of the recipients of the bounty of the tax-payers of these cities.

Not only has it been demonstrated that the discipline in the free schools is more effective for good results, but also that the standard of scholarship has been elevated because of the necessity incumbent upon the teachers and managers thereof to hold the scales of justice evenly between the children of the rich and poor, and because the public criticism to which such schools are more subject than those which are private enterprizes is more exacting.

Let him or her who is sceptical in regard to the above assertion, visit either of the above named cities and investigate this subject. Let him lay aside all his prejudices against Northern ideas, or entertain them in all their intensity if he please, and if the proposed visit is made with honesty of purpose, a conviction of approval will be the inevitable result.

The writer is Southern born, and holds himself the peer of any in his admiration of Southern society, and faithfulness to Southern instincts and Southern interests, and is only instigated to urge the subject of free schools and free education upon the citizens of Atlanta, by the consideration of the good practical results that have been wrought by them in those cities where they have been for a long time in successful operation.

In either of the above named cities the youth of both sexes can obtain, free of charge, an education of a high standard as can be secured in the best of Southern Academies and Colleges.

The youthful but vigorous city of Atlanta, has to choose between the free and paid system of schools. Its citizens must educate. They will educate in some way or other. The private school offers some advantages, mingled with the great disadvantages of uncertainty of duration, high prices of tuition, and a want of uniformity of text-books. The free school properly inaugurated and managed, affords the advantages of relative economy in aggregate cost, permanency, uniformity of text-books and a standard of scholarship, high, but not depressable by the caprice of individual teachers, whose rivalry for public patronage often affords a temptation to superficial teaching, as a means of incurring favor with pupils.

Being compelled to inaugurate a system of education, your City Council would do well to give some attention to the subject. An intelligent board of education should be intrusted with the business of investigating this subject and reporting the facts necessary to an enlightened understanding of this subject, fraught with so much of good to the rising generation and full of promise as a means of increasing the immigration of a thrifty, industrious population.

THE BATTLE RAGES.

Angier and Bell Wage the Governor's Contest—Finance.

From the Era and Intelligencer.]

TREASURER ANGIER'S REPLY TO MAJ. MADISON BELL.

The late correspondence between the Governor and the Comptroller General, and their reckless disregard of law in issuing and countersigning unauthorized warrants, and their rash and wild extravagance, gives evidence of a conspiracy between these two officers to make inroads upon and deplete the Treasury.

The Treasurer, without stopping to notice the Comptroller General's "supposititions," "feelings of confidence," "unwillingness," "thoughts," "probabilities," "feeble influence," "impressions," "precedents," "beliefs," "recollections" and "calculations," (most of which are mis-"calculations,") in his feeble and pointless reply to the facts set forth in the Treasurer's response to the Comptroller's defense of the Governor, will proceed to show that the Comptroller not only countersigned warrants drawn upon the "wrong fund," and also warrants drawn when no appropriation existed to cover them, but that he countersigned warrants drawn in direct opposition to special legislation and appropriation.

Part of section 1 of the General Appropriation Act, for 1869, provides for the salaries of the "Secretaries of Executive Department, not exceeding two for the year 1869," and further, "that his Excellency, the Governor, be authorized to employ such additional assistance in the Executive Department as he may deem necessary at any time, not to exceed one," yet in direct violation of this special provision by the General Assembly, the Governor has drawn warrants for no less than five clerks, independent of the two Executive Secretaries. These warrants were all countersigned by the Comptroller. The Governor and Comptroller try to practice subterfuge and deception in drawing and countersigning these warrants, as follows: Paragraphs Nos. 1 to 9, inclusive of section 72, of the Code of Georgia, specify the duties of the Executive Department. These duties should be performed by the legal clerical force of the department, which, as will appear by above legislation, is only two Executive Secretaries, and one extra clerk, yet the Governor draws his warrants in favor of these additional unauthorized clerks, upon the "23d section General Appropriation Act, 1869," at the same time making reference to one or more of the above paragraphs of section 72, specifying the duties of the Executive Department. Following this as a rule of action allowing a clerk for each specific duty required of the different offices—the Secretary of State, Comptroller General and Treasurer could each claim more than one dozen clerks to transact the business of their respective offices. We further give, as an instance that the Comptroller countersigned warrants "drawn when no appropriation existed to cover them," warrant No. 48, July 3, 1869, in favor of John L. Conley, on 23d section, for five hundred dollars, for extra services rendered in State Library. Section 23 provides "that in all cases where the performance of any service or labor is required by law, for which no provision is made for compensation," etc. Part of section 1 of General Appropriation Act for 1869 specially provides that twelve hundred dollars shall be the salary of the State Librarian for the year 1869.

The Comptroller also approved warrants in favor of S. W. Beaird to the amount of four hundred and eighty dollars for services as assistant in the State Library, when no provision is made for any assistant in that department.

As an evidence that these two officers are conspiring to deplete the State Treasury, over eleven thousand dollars has been drawn by the Governor on the contingent fund, "to defray incidental expenses of Executive Department." We leave the public to judge what these "incidentals" are. The balance of these warrants on the contingent fund, amounting to over eight thousand dollars, state the items they are for, such as Supreme Court reports, stationery, postage, express charges, etc. There is remaining of the twenty thousand dollars appropriated as a contingent fund, less than seven hundred and fifty dollars, with the year but little more than half gone, and the items of heating, lighting and guarding the Capitol, and many other items, not charged to it, as has been the custom of former Governors.

The Comptroller states, "if his recollection is correct," only seven thousand seven hundred and sixty-one 51-100 dollars ($7,761 51-100), is the aggregate drawn on the Printing Fund by the Governor. He very well knows, "if his recollection is correct," that besides this amount, ten thousand dollars was advanced to the Public Printer, by the last General Assembly, which should have been charged as an advance on the Printing Fund for 1869. But the Governor, probably wishing to retain that Fund for his own patronage, as shown in the multitude of useless proclamations, hoping to subsidize the press to his use, disregarded all former "precedents," and disobeyed the instructions of the General Assembly to charge this amount to the Printing Fund as an advance, and even vetoed the Joint Resolution directing him to charge the last advance to the Printing Fund, and refused to change the warrant after the House passed the Resolution over his veto by a vote of 95 to 31.

To these violent and illegal acts of the Governor, the Comptroller gave his approval, and there is no telling to what extent they would have gone, could the Governor have made the Treasurer his "subordinate," as he has the Comptroller his tool.

The misfortune of the Governor is, that when he inaugurated, he thought he had but to command to be obeyed; that all were his subordinates, not seeming to understand that this is a government of the people, each officer having his duties to perform and being responsible for the same. Unfortunately for the State, he has had too many suppliants around him to do his bidding.

We have been disposed to pass the Comptroller by, as too weak a vessel to be disturbed, or made responsible; but if he choses to seek notoriety by being made the pliant tool of others, he need not be surprised if he finds his garments scorched and his fingers burned in the usage.

Respectfully,
N. L. ANGIER, Treasurer.

Atlanta, July 23, 1869.

REPLY OF THE COMPTROLLER GENERAL TO THE STATE TREASURER.

ATLANTA, GA., July 24, 1869.

The reply of Treasurer Angier to my communication in the Intelligencer of the 23d instant, requires some notice at my hands. I had taken no part in the previous controversy between himself and the Governor, desiring to maintain amicable official relations with both of them. In reply to an official communication addressed to me by the Governor, I stated facts; when the Treasurer replied to me, I stated facts again. The Treasurer now, without disproving or denying those statements, in a heat of passion, breaks off into a personal attack upon me, in charging a conspiracy between the Governor and myself, in making inroads upon the Treasury. This accusation would be alarming if my character was at the mercy of the Treasurer, but I console myself with the reflection that no man who has any knowledge of my personal character, or my official conduct, will give the least credit to it. The Treasurer, having been forced to abandon the position first taken by him in regard to the approval of certain warrants, he abruptly breaks off from these, to others which were not under consideration. To follow him up from one position to another, would require more time and attention than I can spare, were I disposed to do so. In reference to his charge that I have countersigned warrants in favor of clerks in the Executive Department, not authorized by law, I admit that I have approved warrants in favor of additional clerks, whom the Governor thought proper to employ on account of the extraordinary pressure of business in that department, which were drawn by authority of the 72d section of the Code, and it is also true that the Treasurer has paid out money to satisfy a claim for services renderd in the same department, and by authority of the same section. So, if it were a crime in me to countersign the warrants in such cases, it was equally a crime in him to pay even one such warrant.

As proof of the alleged conspiracy between the Governor and myself, he refers to the fact that the contingent fund is nearly exhausted, when he knows that the law gives me no control whatever over this fund, the Governor alone having the authority to apply it. The Comptroller has no right to supervise the Governor in its application, as the Treasurer well knows. A charge of conspiracy then, founded on the fact that I have not saved a fund over which I had no control whatever, is too ridiculous to require further refutation. With equal propriety might I charge the Treasurer with participation in the same conspiracy, because he has paid the warrants on that fund which he charges me with wrongfully approving. His foolish charge against me, however, shall not drive me to the folly and absurdity of preferring such a charge against him. His reflection upon my "weakness" is chiefly noticeable as an exhibition of his taste and feeling. In my "weakness" I am able to vindicate my conduct in office against all his aspersions, and I am not aware that the occasion requires a greater amount of strength. A faithful and quiet performance of the duties of my office, has been my constant aim, and if it be "weak" to have accomplished this without querulous and undignified controversies with other departments of the State Government, the charge of "weakness" gives me no annoyance. I have taken no notice of the Treasurer's assaults upon the Governor, because it is no part of my business to defend the Executive of the State. I have only undertaken to defend my own office against the unfounded accusations of the Treasurer, and this I believe I have done to the satisfaction of all who understand [illegible] justice.

[illegible] impair my reputation with the [illegible] indicted and [illegible] welcome to all such trophies.

Respectfully, Madison Bell.

That the white people, of Mississippi, have as thoroughly abandoned all resistance to the Republican party as they did to the Government, when the armies of Gen. THE BLONDES IN CLOVER.

They are of the original stock of "English blondes," and we do not believe that Miss Logan has yet met with them, or held out the olive branch. In fact, theatrical people have a great penchant for Long Branch, and "people of the profession" seem to lounge about here as much as they do at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Mitchell, of the county of Glynn, Ordinary thereof, to fill the vacancy aforesaid, and order that he, the said Geo. McK. Mitchel, upon his executing and filing in this Department, his official bond as Clerk of Ordinary, in the sum of One Thousand Dollars, with such sureties thereto as the law requires and satisfactory to me, be commissioned accordingly.

[OFFICIAL.]

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Atlanta, Georgia, July 23, 1869.

To all whom it may Concern, Greeting:

Whereas, it is a well known fact in the history of the late Rebellion, that the civil authorities of this State exacted from the several Banks doing business therein, loans of large amounts of their capital stock and assets, which have never been repaid, and that the said Banks have hereby been reduced to insolvency; and

Whereas, Robert F. Curry, as President and a Director of the Northwestern Bank of Georgia, Walker P. Inman, as Cashier and a Director of the same Bank, and William H. Inman, as a Director in the same Bank, were indicted at the March adjourned Term of the Superior Court in and for Catoosa county, for a misdemeanor in the insolvency of said Bank, on the first day of April, A. D., 1868; and also for a failure to redeem the notes of the said Bank on the 15th day of April, A. D. 1867, which, it is alleged, were on that day presented for payment to the amount of Fifty Thousand dollars; and also for a failure to redeem the notes of the said Bank, on the twenty-second day of October, A. D. 1867, which, it is alleged, were on that day presented for payment to the amount of Fifty Thousand Dollars; and

Whereas, satisfactory proof has been made to me that the affairs of the said Bank have been fairly and legally administered, and generally with the same care and diligence that agents, receiving a commission for their services, are required and bound by law to observe, and that the insolvency of the said Bank and its inability to redeem its notes have been brought about by no agency of the said Robert F. Curry, Walker P. Inman, and William H. Inman, but are the necessary results of the action of the civil powers of this State during the late Rebellion, and the destruction and loss of property occasioned by the late civil war; and

Whereas, the expenses, inconvenience and trouble of a defense will work great hardship and damage to the said parties:

Now, therefore, In consideration of the facts and circumstances aforesaid, and to the end that impartial justice may be done, I, Rufus B. Bullock, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy of this State, and of the militia thereof, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by the Constitution and laws of this State, do hereby pardon the said Robert F. Curry, Walker P. Inman, and William H. Inman, of the said misdemeanor and misdemeanors, wherewith they and each of them now stand and stands charged and indicted, in said county of Catoosa, as hereinbefore recited, and all misdemeanors, consisting in this insolvency of the said "The Northwestern Bank of Georgia" or in failures or refusals to redeem the Notes of the said Bank in specie or in current bank bills passing at par, and committed or alleged to have been committed by the said Robert F. Curry, Walker P. Inman, William H. Inman, or any of them, since the nineteenth day of January, A. D. 1861.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Executive Department, at the Capitol, in Atlanta, on the day and year first above written.

RUFUS B. BULLOCK, Governor.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::JULY 27.

A THRILLING EPISODE IN RADICAL "HIGH" LIFE—An Atlanta Rad Goes to Rome—Epistles Every Day to His Ginger-Bread Colored Dramsrats.—We give below the following letters, written by an Atlanta "Rad" to his dusky lady-love at this place. While absent from her, at Rome, he could say of his affection for her—

"It warms me, it charms me,
To mention but her name;
It heats me, it beats me,
And sets me a' on flame."

ROME, July 9.

Dear Cecilia: I know you are very much vexed with me and I expect you will go back on me for spite, but recollect I have done nothing for you to spite me for. If I could get you to do right the world would be nothing without you. I am already getting lonesome without you, but unless you can come to the couclusion that you will live different to what you have, I fear I will not be able to keep you up. It pains my heart to think you are so reckless and thoughtless as not to know I can not live the way you have been going on. I know that whenever I lose all my money you will leave me to pine away and die. All that I can say to you is, to be saving and try to be ready, if I should see a chance for you. I am making money fast enough, but it takes a great deal to live on here. Do not waste what I did leave with you.

Your dearest papa, D.

ROME, July 13.

Dear Cecilia: As for how I treated you, I would say what did you do with all the money your furniture brought. You forget how you treated me. I know that if one man will not do, another will—but remember there is no one to do by you, as I have done. I know you can make more money, but as I said who will pet you up as I did—who will bear with you as I have done, who will try more faithfully than I have done to get you to do right. That, as you know, was my whole study, but you have gone on and heaven will witness, I am not to blame. As for collaring me on every corner of the street, what could you do, oh, wicked woman! one that has done so much for you. Will you consent to do it, can you get it into your head to degrade one so kind to you. I may be home sooner than I expected, but one thing certain, I have kept myself all right. I feel proud of what I have done, I do not regret what I have done to you, only that I was fool enough to pay that fine of yours $9.50. It was very uncalled for, and wicked on your part. If you would only think of the amount you have wasted in beer and liquors, you could easily see why I could not do more for you. I could say I have the best boarding house in the world and plenty of nice girls to eat with and more to wait on than you ever saw, but there is none like you. Yours as ever. PAPA.

ROME, July 13, 1869.

Dear Cecilia: I again write you two letters a day. I have just been to see Harriet. She has got a nice place and a good home away out in the edge of town. I will be home this week certain, and wherever I go you shall be there if life lasts. I never will forsake you as long as you will do right. I never will leave until I am compelled to do so; all your abuse of me amounts to nothing, if your heart is right, and I know it is. People may say what they will, you know me and I know you, and that is enough for us to know.

This world is a blank without you. What do I care to live for but to please you if you will only please me? Go down and see Mat, and look round and see how things goes on, and how our store is doing, but do not take anything from Mat as I hold him responsible for everything in the store. Buy out Mr. Thomas Bon in the old Masonic Hall building by the time I come down. I will pay for it, if it is not too much.

Say to them Atlanta rascals, they cannot get you yet! Say to them you love another, if it is a story. You cannot, you shall not forget me. Recollect your heart is mine, and they cannot get it. I do not do a down-hill business where I go. I leave no room for any one to come along and get my trick. That's too good for niggers and white men better stand off as old Boss is coming.

ROME, July 14, 1869.

Dear Cecilia: This morning I telegraphed to you to come up to-night, but never received any reply, so I suppose you did not want to come up. I am now making something. I expect to clear $5 to $10 per night this week. If you had come as I wanted you, I allowed to let you remain with Harriet a week or two and recruit, as I know you are nearly worn out with trouble, but I will smooth all when you come. I know you say you intend to collar me on every corner, but my darling do you not know I have no fears of you. Poor women, their tongue is all they can use, and I suppose they must be allowed that, at least, until I see proper to stop it. I shall go out serenading to-night with a band. I was at a ball the other night, and the most pretty girls you ever saw, but one thing, mine was not there, that was all that kept me from being perfectly happy. Can you not write one letter every day. I could write to you half a dozen times every day if I was not ashamed to put them in the office. I will not neglect to send one every day, whether you want to see it or not, unless you say right out you do not want me to bother you any longer with my nonesense, as you know this world is a blank without a good kind partner. What is the world to me, but for enjoyment? What do I care for life but for is pleasures? The sorrows of life I do not seek—the pleasures is what I am after, these others follow fast enough without seeking them. YOUR DEAR PAPA.

"Papa" came down, and a few days afterwards wanted to leave on the Macon train. "Cecilia" was there, and announced her determination to go too, when "papa" backed out. That same day the following entry was made on the police docket: "Cecilia Smith, drunk and disorderly, plead guilty, $5 and costs."

GEORGE PAGE & Co.—Among the large and prominent manufacturers in Baltimore, are Messrs. George Page & Co. They manufacture Page's improved patent portable circular saw mills, stationary and portable steam engines and boilers, grist mills, shingle machines, lath and slab machinery, saw gummers, horse-powers, shafting, etc., etc. We call special attention to their advertisement.

DISGRACEFUL.—We are creditably informed that some heartless wretch, one night last week, stole and carried off a horse belonging to Mrs. Lee, in Gwinnett county. The horse was her only dependence, and was a large bay with heavy mane and tail, both hind feet white, eight years old, about 15½ or 16 hands high, shod all round, mane inclined to lay on left side, and low in order. A cavalry saddle with rope stirrup leathers, and a bridle, were also carried away. We trust the wretch may be caught and punished.

NIGHT TRAIN TO ATHENS.—For the accommodation of parties visiting Athens during the Commencement Exercises, etc., a train will be run on the Athens Branch every night, from the 29th inst., until the 13th proximo, inclusive. Said train will connect at Union Point, with the night train on main line.

SOUTHERN HOME SCHOOL.—We invite attention to the card of this school, in another column. It is located in Baltimore, and among its principals is Mrs. Gen. John Pegram. It is designated as a school for young ladies, and parties desiring to send their daughters outside of the State will find the "Home" an excellent school.

OCTAVUS COHEN & Co.—This old and reliable firm at Savannah, announce that they have secured the sole agency for Georgia, Florida, and Alabama, of Rhode's Super-Phosphate and Orchilla Guano, standard fertilizers. Planters who deal with Messrs. Cohen & Co., will find them prompt and their guarantees entirely trustworthy.

Local Editor Constitution—I see, in your very flattering notice of the declamation of the Atlanta High School, on Thursday night last, that you give myself and Prof. Janes, all the credit. Prof. E. G. Moore, a teacher of high and established reputation is associated with us on equal terms, and as an equal is entitled to share with us all the honors of the school. We feel assured that it was an unintentional oversight. In justice to Prof. Moore, I feel it my duty to call your attention to the fact, and respectfully request that you set Prof. Moore right before the public.

Respectfully, etc.,
J. A. RICHARDSON.

Atlanta, Ga., July 26, 1869.

We cheerfully comply with the above request. At the time of writing the notice we had no circular, advertisement, or card of the school by us, and hence the error complained of.

LIBEL SUITS.—We never before knew the prosection of newspaper publishers for libel so brisk as it has been in the last year. A considerable number of people seem to have gone into the business of bringing libel suits as a regular vocation, trying to fatten their bodies out of the alleged proceeds of damages sustained by their characters. The calling, though undoubtedly well followed, is proving a very unthrifty one. It falls two thousand per cent. short of paying expenses. Up to this time we have not known, out of probably forty cases, a single one in which the prosecutor did not have to pay the costs. The lesson will probably be well understood pretty soon, that libel-suits are a beggarly business, whether the prosecutor is in pursuit of money or character.—Courier-Journal.

Fatal Affray in Crawfordville!—Shooting and Reign of Terror!—Particulars of the Homicide.

[Special Correspondence of The Constitution.]

CRAWFORDVILLE, GA., July 26.

Mr. Editor: On Saturday last, the 24th day of the present month, occurred a most sad and diabolical affray, in the town of Crawfordville, in the afternoon, between Messrs. C. C. Reese and Thos. J. Edwards, in which the latter was most wantonly and wickedly shot dead upon the spot—the ball entering the left breast, and penetrating the heart. No inquest has been held over the dead body, neither has there been any warrant issued for the arrest of the offender. The particulars are about as follows, viz:

Reese was engaged in pulling the hats off the negroes, when Edwards asked him what he meant, upon which an altercation of words ensued between them. Both parties criminated and re-criminated with each other. Reese in the meantime had gotten out his pistol, and Edwards being unarmed asked his antagonist to allow him an equal chance, and showed a disposition to avoid a collision, when Reese, as if suddenly seized by some fiendish spirit, threatened in the most abusive language to shoot him. Whereupon Edwards opening his bosom, and facing him, exclaimed with an oath, "shoot, then, g—d d—n you!" Whereupon Reese fired, with but too deadly aim, and Edwards sank down to rise no more. Reese then armed himself with a rifle gun, and with pistol and gun roamed the streets ad libitum until night, brandishing his weapons and threatening to shoot any one who dared arrest him—raving like a furious maniac, to the terror of citizens. The Sheriff being near the parties at the commencement of the difficulty, was powerless to stop it. The Justice of the Peace in the town district being sick, hence the reason why no inquest was held or warrant issued. Superadded to this it may be appropriately stated, neither of these officers have been commissioned or qualified, owing to legal disabilities, according to the new regime of things. Thus the people of this village, and county, are subjected to all the horrors of anarchy and an interegnum. Both the parties were staunch Democrats. Edwards leaves a wife and five or six little children to mourn his loss. More anon, from

OCCASIONAL.

FOURTH M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.—Local Editor Constitution: In looking over your very popular paper of the 20th instant, I notice among your local items, an inadvertent mistake. I am happy to inform your "local" that there are two Churches in North End.

Paine's Chapel was organized, and in a flourishing condition before, and during the war; but, like many others of God's sanctuaries, it fell a victim to the relentless hand of invasion.

About three months ago, the Rev. Wm. C. Dunlap, Missionary of the North Side, Atlanta City Mission, re-organized the Church in North End Academy, near the old site, since which, regular services have been held, morning and evening every Sabbath. We now number a membership of forty-six, with a Sunday School of one hundred and forty.

Our new Church house, 36x50, will be hulled in by next Sabbath a week, so that we can hold temporary service in it until we can have it finished. It is located on the corner of Hunnicutt and Luckie streets—the old site—in one of the most beautiful groves I ever saw; and secluded from all the noise and bustle of the more business portions of the city.

In conclusion, let me add, this is an enterprise that commends itself to every right-thinking christian. We are poor—and have no hope of any assistance from the North. Who will help us? Is there a man or woman in Atlanta, who will voluntarily give us help. Respectfully,

July 22, 1869. T. H. DOZIER.

"GULL-TRAPS."—Postmaster Dunning has shown us a sample of a letter, purporting to emanate from Noyes & Co., 65 Wall street, New York, proposing to sell "exact copies of the genuine United States Treasury notes, (executed by the most skilled men in the art, outside of the State's prison,) at the following prices, viz: packages representing $200 in various denominations $15; packages representing $500, $30; $1,000, $50; $2,000, $80. About three hundred of these letters were sent to this office, one half marked New York, and one half Brooklyn. These letters are nothing more than "gull-traps." The poor "gull" sends his $15, or other amount, and gets in return photographic copies. The letter states one truth that we are not disposed to dispute, viz: That these notes are executed by the most skilled men in the art, outside of the State's prison! But even if the parties engaged in this fraud are detected, we doubt capitally whether they can be brought to punishment.

L. H. BRADFIELD'S COLUMN.

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S

FEMALE REGULATOR,

Woman's Best Friend

THIS valuable Medicine is prepared for WOMEN exclusively, and to be used by WOMEN only. It is adapted especially to those cases where the WOMB is disordered, and will cure any irregularity in the "menses," except in such cases as require a surgical operation. As these last are very rare, the FEMALE REGULATOR is of almost universal application. In a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from COLD, trouble of mind or like cause, it acts like a charm, by RESTORING THE DISCHARGE IN EVERY INSTANCE, thus relieving the fever, headache, pain in the small of the back and "lower stomach," flushes of heat about the face, chilly sensations, burning of the eyelids and general restlessness. Taken in time, all these symptoms pass away immediately, without injury to the constitution. Frequently, however, the proper remedy is not applied in time, the disease becomes chronic, and the foundation laid for numberless evils to the constitution of the woman. The next "turn" comes around and there is no "show," or perhaps the "whites" will appear. There will be some uneasiness about the womb, but very little of none of the natural fluid escaping. The complexion becomes sallow, bowels swollen, a sort of greenish caste about the face, constant dull aching pains in the head, weight in the lower stomach and back, with or without whites, palpitations of the heart, pallor, exhaustion, indigestion, weariness, languor, aching across the loins, loss of appetite, pain in left breast, tightness across the chest, cough and giddiness. If still allowed to grow, "green sickness" will be fully developed—the headache becomes severe, with loss of memory, diminishing sensibility, SICK STOMACH, dyspepsia, no relish for food, loss of flesh, increased fluttering of the heart SWELLING OF THE FEET, legs and body and occasional spitting of blood. The slightest effort causes RETCHED BREATHING, almost SUFFOCATION. The skin is dubby and a "dongling feel." This is a sad picture, but it is the condition of thousands of women between the ages of 15 and 45, who are brought to the verge of the grave by ignorance or neglect to take the proper remedy. To all who are afflicted with any of the symptoms above mentioned, in connection with an irregularity of the "monthly sickness," we earnestly say TAKE DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. A few ounces taken, you will at once experience its benefits, and with a little patience you will be fully restored to health.

This remedy has been extensively used for upwards of twenty years by many of the most experienced and successful Physicians of Georgia.

We repeat, that Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is prepared for WOMEN and to be used by Women only.

A trial is all we ask.

DR. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in stating that some time previous to the late war, I used, with the utmost success, on a servant girl, your FEMALE REGULATOR, prepared then at Bradfield's Drug Store, West Point, Ga. She had been suffering severely from suppressed menstruation, and this Medicine soon restored her to health. She is, to-day, living in Atlanta, sound and well.

I will state, further, that I know of its being used, with equal success, on a servant girl of my brother-in-law, Professor Rutherford, of Athens, Ga. This woman had, I think, been diseased for six years. She was a house servant, and seemed cured, up to the time of "freedom." I do not hesitate to endorse your preparation for the purposes for which you recommend it.

Yours truly, JNO. C. WHITNER.

THE excellent Remedies of O. S. Prophitt, M. As the majority of persons living in the South are predisposed to disease of the Liver, it is regarded by all intelligent physicians that most of the pains and aches of our people are due to organic or functional derangement of that important organ. Prophitt's Liver Medicine and Anti-Bilious Pills strike directly at the root of the evil—they cure the Liver which, in nine cases out of ten, is at the bottom of the Coughs, Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Constipation, Menstrual Obstructions, etc., so common among our people. Earache, Toothache, Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia and and bodily pains of every kind flee before

The Old Story.

"The sails are set and the breeze is up,
And the prow is turned for a northern cote;
Kiss my cheek and vow me a vow,
That you will ever be true to me!"

"I kiss your cheek, I kiss your lips:
Never a change this heart shall know,
Whatever betide—come life, come death—
Darling, darling, I love you so!"

Oh, but the northern nights are keen!
The sailor clings to the frozen shrouds;
A kiss burns hot through his dreams of home,
And his heart goes south with the flying clouds.

The maiden laughs by the garden gate—
Dreams of love are the sweetest of!
Kisses fall on her lips and hair,
And the world goes on as it went before.

Total value of property of Atlanta Bondsmen, $10,000. Are the other eight worth $90,000!

HORACE GREELEY VS. CARPET-BAGGERS. In conversation with Horace Greeley, this gentleman asked Mr. G. to visit Georgia and see for himself how much our people were misrepresented by our enemies. Mr. G. replied, "No; I do not wish to visit Georgia now. Let your people go ahead and make good crops and money this year, get upon your feet, have everything quiet, get rid of the miserable carpet-baggers and niggers, and then I wish to come."

Two carpet-bag Representatives of Georgia heard this remark by Greeley.—Correspondence Macon Telegraph.

New England Revisited—Visible Improvements—Manchester—Its Mills and their Fruits—Pleasure—Travel—Temperature, etc.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 20, 1869.

Editor Constitution: After an absence of twenty years, I am again visiting a portion of sterile, rocky New England—a section prolific alike in ideas, "isms," as in topics for suggestive study and comparison. I have been critical to note the changes that have been wrought within that period. I find, on every hand, evidences of prosperity, and steady growth, and expansion. New towns have sprung up, new factories have been erected. A spirit of improvement is everywhere manifest, that imparts a freshness and exterior attraction to the numerous villages and hamlets that are so thickly scattered along the lines of public travel. While other sections have been laid waste, or suffered material loss, New England has increased in wealth, mainly because she devoted her energies and capital so exclusively to manufacturing enterprises. The South would profit by so plain and unmistakable an illustration.

This city of Manchester has about the population and age of Atlanta. It is purely a manufacturing city; is built upon what was, thirty years ago, a barren and forbidding waste, and now has its well paved streets, elegant public and private buildings, shaded parks, splendid churches and costly school edifices. There is a public library, accessible to all, containing about 15,000 volumes. Last year $60,000 was appropriated for the maintenance of the public schools, and the erection of suitable buildings. I would commend this last item to the consideration of your City Council. It is a positive disgrace that nothing has been yet done, to inaugurate a system of free education for all the children of Atlanta. Free schools are now sustained by public law, in nearly all the Northern States, and the sooner the same system is established in the South the speedier will be the equalization of political and moral power between the different sections.

The growth of this city proceeds directly from the manufacturing establishments located here. There are four principal "corporations," having an aggregate capital of about six millions of dollars, and furnishing employment, when in full operation, to about ten thousand operatives. Besides these there are several minor industries of a miscellaneous character that are naturally attracted by the larger establishments.

These mills manufacture almost every description of cotton goods, delaines, prints, cassimers, linens, locomotives, fire engines, edge tools, etc. I am informed that most of the capital stock paid for itself from the profits realized during the war. Of course the dividends are very much reduced at present, still some of the stock is worth 100 per cent. premium. These companies have acquired such strength and capital, that, in times of depression, they can, by holding the manufactured article, and reducing the working force, safely pass the crisis and put their goods on the market at full prices.

The operatives are required to work eleven hours a day, notwithstanding the eight hour agitation, and the attempt to enforce it in many sections. Legislation on this question will always prove unavailing, for the law of supply and demand is the only agency that can govern in such matters.

The Manchester Mills have probably been as successful as any in New England, and I allude to them in detail to show what might be done elsewhere even with greater probabilities of success. The South must bring into requisition her limitless resources of raw material, mineral wealth, and exhaustless water power. With these properly manipulated she may retain a portion of that wealth that has heretofore been so so freely poured into the treasury of other sections only to impoverish and oppress in return.

Pleasure travel is tending strongly to the White Hills and the numerous inland lakes of this region. This is sensible, for cooling retreats and exhilerating mountain breezes are certainly found in this far Northern region.

Thermometer at sunrise 65 degrees. Think of that, and envy me, ye dust breathing, suffocating Atlantians. P.

A STITCH IN TIME SAVES NINE.—If you have a cough, do not neglect it, thousands go to an untimely grave by neglecting what they call a slight cold. These slight colds are very insidious. They soon become deep-seated, and defy all remedies. DR. TUTT'S EXPECTORANT will cure it. It can be had of any druggist.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR Medicine for Dyspepsia, Headache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhœa, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, Bilk, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood Melancholy or Depression of Spirits
Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED
LIVER. Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.
It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.
Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.
Regulator For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful or more will give relief. Children, as well as adults, sometimes eat too much for supper, or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.
Many persons, from eating too much, are restless all night, or in day time hagety, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fretful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.
Jaundice.—Take enough Regulator after eating each meal to produce one full action from the bowels every day.
Pregnant ladies will find sure relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, etc., etc.

The Doctor publishes a medical circular that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at his office, or by mail for one stamp. It gives a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringement of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposures and imprudences in married or single life. Every sentence contains instruction of the greatest importance to those who desire the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment comprising ten ample rooms, is central. Where it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express to any part of the country. Medicines, however, in personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others, daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is conducive to comfort and privacy, including medicated Vapor Baths.
